Albany is the state capital of New York .It developed on the west bank of the Hudson River. The first European settlement in this area was by Dutch colonists. The Tulip Festival is held in Albany, New York every spring at Washington Park. It stems from when Mayor Erastus Corning 2nd got a city ordinance passed declaring the tulip as Albany's official flower on July 1, 1948. This year will be the 67th Albany Tulip Festival.

Itinerary

Once we leave New York City, we will head to Albany directly. In Albany downtown, we will visit The New York State Museum which was founded in 1836. The collections of the New York State Museum include geological samples, paleontology specimens, historic materials, and art. Their anthropological collections are extensive, and include the collections of several early and well-known anthropologists, including Lewis H. Morgan and Arthur C. Parker. Then, we will move to The Tulip Festival is held in every spring at Washington Park. Thousands of gorgeous tulips will bloom in May, which is the reason the Tulip Festival is a famous event during Mother's Day in Albany. At last we will go to the New York State Capitol which is the capitol building of the U.S. state of New York. Housing the New York State Legislature, it is located in the Empire State Plaza on State Street in Capitol Park. The building, completed in 1899 at a cost of $25 million (worth approximately half a billion current dollars), was the most expensive government building of its time.
