Features: * *New York State Hudson River Valley Apple Picking - Home of Franklin D. Roosevelt National Historic Site

After a long hot summer, it's time to harvest fruits. We will go to the largest apple orchard in Hudson Valley to picking apples. Hudson Valley is America's second-largest apple-producing area. Short drive to upstate New York and we can enjoy the gorgeous Hudson Valley view. Hudson Valley produces a huge variety of apples, such as Empire apples, red apples, Fuji apples, and Macoun apples. May be you will have the chance to hit the apple harvest festival.

For the second stop, we will go the home of our 32nd American President, Franklin Roosevelt. The President's residence is just located in Hyde Park. This is a National Historic Site that was established in 1945 to preserves the Springwood estate. We will also be able to visit President FDR's Presidential Library and Museum as well Rose Garden where the President was buried.
